

Mr. John Kimotho

He is the Senior Deputy Director, Media and Extension Services at KICD. He holds a Master's Degree (Communications-Media Studies) from Daystar University where he is a PhD candidate. He holds Post Graduate Diploma (PGD) in African Leadership in ICT and Knowledge Society from Dublin City University and PGC in media management from University of Alberta. He has undertaken several professional courses in strategic leadership and development, strategic negotiations, results based performance and public private partnerships.

Mr. Kimotho is a registered engineer with Engineer's Registration Board and a member of the Global Digital Literacy Council. He is an award winner in Pan African Heritage awards in Television category and Public service award in Innovations.

Prior to joining KICD he has worked in the educational media field and served at Kenya Broadcasting Corporation, Educational Media- Canada and National Museums of Kenya (NMK).